BIG CANNING PLANT TO OPEN HERE ON AUGUST 23

S.F. SYNDICATE TO FINANCE THE CANNING PLANT

Plant to Can 50,000 Boxes of Peaches and Tomatoes This Year Before Closing

A syndicate of San Francisco financiers have agreed to finance the new Foster Canning plant which will open with a force of 100 about August 23, according to H. R. Foster, manager, who stated yesterday that unforeseen delays have prevented the plant from opening earlier.

The San Francisco syndicate, the name of which Foster declared yesterday he was not at present at liberty to divulge are enthusiastic about the out-put of the cannery here and have agreed to finance the work to the extent of $3,000 a day for the packing of 1,000 boxes daily.

This will remove the disadvantage the cannery faced in buying up peaches and tomatoes with other buyers already in the field. The best of the canning peaches, Foster declared, arrive about August 20.

Foster stated that the plant will can about 50,000 boxes of peaches and tomatoes this year before the season ends in November.

The syndicate which will finance the packing is an export firm which deals in jellies, preserves and jams, according to Foster.

If conditions turn out favorably this year, the cannery will in all probability incorporate and erect a huge plant here.

Delays in shipment of machinery from the east and the poor quality of the first run of peaches were given as the cause for the postponement of the opening which was originally set for the first week in July.

The hot weather of the interior valleys where the first run of peaches are shipped caused considerable damage to the crops, Foster declared. Farmers in the interior valleys say that the extreme hot weather is the first since 1905.

"I am just as glad that we did not get started before this," Foster said. "We would have had a poorer quality of fruit to start the season and I am anxious to begin with a clear reputation."

Although the Foster Canning company will have a small output this season, due to the late start, the company plans to more than double its plant next fall and will be ready for a full season next year.

Foster is enthusiastic over the vegetable crop of Contra Costa county. In speaking of the 10,000 tons of tomatoes marketed last year he said that while this amount was below that of other sections of the state, the quality of the tomatoes were such that their use for canning purposes was superior.

"Even if we did not pack fruit," Foster said, "there is more than enough vegetables of high grade to keep the plant running."

Final services in thousands of Catholic churches throughout Mexico have been held, after which priests suspended services in protest against anti-religious laws. The first riot broke out in the Church of San Rafael when crowds of worshippers refused to leave and police fired, wounding ten persons.

ELECTION OF GEO. IMBACH IS PREDICTED

The fight for tax collector that will be settled at the August 31st primary, between Martin W. Joost, wealthy office holder, who has held the position for the past twenty years, and George F. Imbach is attracting a great deal of attention.

Imbach is making wonderful headway, and is covering every part of the county, making friends by the hundreds, who are taking off their coats and doing valiant service for him.

The "great majority" of those supporting Imbach are of the opinion that it is time for a change in the tax collector's office. Just four years ago Joost, instead of attending to the duties of his office, was putting in his time, telling the people of the county who they should not elect to office, just as if the average citizen was lacking in enough intelligence to know how to cast his ballot.

At the general election, the attitude of Joost was resented to such an extent that nearly 1600 went to the polls and wrote in the name of a candidate rather than cast their ballot for him. There was no hope of electing any other candidate at that time, but the voters in all sections, evidently took this method of rebuking this officious official, and telling him to mind his own business.

Those same voters and thousands of others, if reports that are received are correct, are still of the same frame of mind. Imbach, it is predicted will be the next tax collector of this county.

RECOVERING FROM INJURIES

Mrs. Andrew McCrochan, 322 Washington avenue is reported recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Redding a week ago. She is at the Cottage hospital where she is undergoing treatment. Dr. C. L. Abbott is the attending physician.

Mrs. M. N. Blankenship, 526 Third street is planning a week-end visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Seelu at her home at Fairfax Manor.

Chamber of Commerce Makes Plans For The Bringing Of Traffic To Business Center

Asking that Twenty-third street be improved first, E. B. Bull, prominent Richmond realtor, urged the development of this artery as a means of bringing traffic to the business section. He asked that Twenty-third street be widened and moved to make a suitable entrance into the city. The street could be widened and the "botleneck" removed if a strip of the school property was secured, he declared.

The Richmond Chamber of Commerce is solidly committed to solving Richmond's traffic needs, which will result in bringing more traffic directly into the business heart of the city.

This was manifested at the meeting of the directors at the new Hotel Carquinez yesterday noon when President P. M. Sanford was authorized to appoint a committee to make a complete investigation and to report back at the earliest possible moment.

Recognizing the need of more direct traffic routes into the retail center, the directors were unanimously agreed that this problem should be solved today as a matter of civic necessity.

The subject was introduced by President Sanford. "The people of Richmond are looking to the Chamber of Commerce for leadership in solving our important civic and development problems," he said. "One of the needs of Richmond is a traffic inlet. Our present main highways, with the exception of Macdonald, go around us. Take Cutting, boulevard and the county highway. One or more direct routes are necessary."

President Sanford suggested widening and extending Tenth street to the county highway as one method of bringing traffic into Richmond's retail center. A wide-open discussion took place with practically every one of the nineteen directors present giving his viewpoint.

E. M. Downer, E. B. Bull, M. A. Hays, speaking on the subject declared that Twenty-third street was the logical street to be developed. Much of the work has already been done, they said, and further that Twenty-third street

Direct Primaries In State Of Illinois Are Held Invalid By Three Circuit Court Judges

BY CHARLES W. WHEELER
(The Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Holding of the Illinois direct primary law of 1910 invalid and unconstitutional by the three judges of the Fifth Circuit District at Dixon today paves the way for a final adjudication in the State Supreme Court.

The case will be laid before the full tribunal at the October term. An immediate decision, if sustaining the lower courts, would throw the political and election machinery of the State into a state of chaos, from which orderly election would be well high impossible before the November election.

Because of the confusion that would result it is not likely that the high court will undertake to render final judgment before the December term. If it should be adverse, so that the nomination made in the April primary will not be disturbed.

While the Supreme Court has yet to render the final judgment, proponents of the repeal of the law were in high spirits tonight. The attack on the direct nominating system of the State col-

PILOT IN TAIL SPIN PLUNGES TO HIS DEATH

Aviator is Instantly Killed When Parachute Fails to Open After Plane Stalls

(By Universal Service)

DAYTON, Ohio, August 11.—An unseen aviator—Death—upon different occasions has ridden with Lieutenant E. H. Barksdale, popular McCook field pilot today obtained his reward when Barksdale was killed in a tail spin.

The accident is regarded by McCook field officials as one of the most unusual accidents in the field's history.

When at an altitude of 3,000 feet above the gold field, Barksdale seemed to go into a tail spin. Witnesses on the field saw that the plane was beyond the control of the Lieutenant watched the pilot jump from the plane and leap in his parachute.

Lieut. Barksdale was then about 500 feet in the air. Whether he in leaving the pit opened the parachute too soon can not be determined, as the chute functioned perfectly in opening. One of the ropes attached to it became caught in the wing of the plane.

At this juncture it must have been apparent to the flier that his fate was sealed, even as it appeared to those who watched the thrilling dash to certain death to the ground.

As the uncontrolled plane whirled its dizzy pace to the ground and destruction Lieutenant Barksdale tied to the parachute was swung about in a circle, helpless to save himself.

Youths Will Be Taken to Fresno This Morning

Inspector David Moran of the Fresno police department arrived in Richmond last night to return to Fresno three youths alleged to have stolen a car in that city.

The three, giving their names as Eugene Phalman, J. G. Phalman and Paul Humphrey, all 18 years of age, were arrested early yesterday morning as they were driving down Cutting Boulevard near Tenth street. The arresting officer became suspicious of their actions and took them into custody.

Following their arrest and questioning it is said that the three confessed to stealing a car owned by R. P. Cole of Fresno.

They will be returned to the scene of their alleged crime this morning.

Pleads Guilty to Disturbing Peace

"As far as politics are concerned, it is absolutely absurd," declared Justice of the Peace Lefe Grover, yesterday in reply to the statement circulated that he had caused the arrest of Joseph Guarte, of Richmond, because the latter held political views in variance with him.

"I had him arrested because he has been making himself obnoxious for some time," Judge Grover declared.

Guarte was arrested yesterday in San Pablo and later pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. He was released on his own recognizance. Rumors were circulated that the arrest was caused because Guarte differed in political views from Judge Grover. It is said that Guarte has been creating disturbances by becoming angry with persons opposed to him in politics and to quiet the man, the arrest was made. He promised Judge Grover that hereafter he will restrain himself.

Popularity Of John A. Miller Is Increasing

It is claimed by many that not to exceed ten percent of the voters of the western section of the county are acquainted with the present county assessor, George O. Meese, who has occupied the office for the past twenty years, and become well acquainted with the heads of the corporations.

Apparently Meese feels that the voters do not elect officers in Contra Costa county, for from all that can be learned but little has been done in his behalf in this section.

On the other hand, his opponent, John A. Miller is making a thorough canvass of every voter, and is making his appeal direct.

Those who are taking an interest in politics say that if the primary was held tomorrow Miller would go out of Richmond, leading his opponent by about 2,000.

How much more this majority will grow by August 31 is hard to estimate.

New Coffee Shop To Open Here

Next Saturday morning at 732 Macdonald avenue an exclusive coffee shop to be known as "Cathleen" will be opened to the public by Mrs. Katherine Marshall and Miss Helen Malcolm. The new place is being put in proper shape and will be most attractive. It will have electric waffle iron and all coffee will be percolated and will be imported direct from the islands.

All kinds of sandwiches, and salads and other dainties will be kept on hand at all times.

One of the proprietors is a dietician, and will give advice on the proper food.

The ladies have every faith in the future of Richmond, and have not only shown it by investing their money in business here, but moving to this city, and taking up their residence in the Mira Vista section.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown are spending their vacation in Mendocino county. They will probably be home on Saturday.

Search Of City Is Made For Juan Gonzalez Who Fired Shots At Officer

CAR IS DESERTED BY MEXICANS IN THEIR HASTE TO MAKE ESCAPE.
FLASKS OF WHISKY ARE FOUND
IN AUTO. MRS. MARY POLAND IS HELD BY THE POLICE AS MATERIAL WITNESS

While attempting to investigate the mysterious actions of two Mexicans in the rear of a restaurant at Second street and Macdonald avenue, last night about 11 o'clock, Police Officer S. W. Ligon was shot twice and narrowly escaped death, in a scuffle which followed.

At the Abbott Emergency hospital where Ligon was taken it was found that the index finger of his left hand had been completely severed by one of the bullets and another entered the palm of his hand and came out of the wrist.

Dr. U. S. Abbott who attended the injured officer found it necessary to amputate the finger. Ligon was later removed to the Cottage hospital.

His assailant who has been identified as Juan Gonzalez, arrested several weeks ago by officers and another Mexican, unidentified, fled and up to a late hour last night had not been located.

According to Ligon, he entered the yard at the rear of the buildings facing on Macdonald avenue and smelling liquor, began an investigation. As he approached a touring car, one of the occupants jumped and started to flee. He yelled at him to stop but instead one of the men, identified as Gonzalez, began firing with an automatic and started toward the officer.

The two men clinched and in the struggle, Gonzalez got possession of the officer's gun and began firing. Although he had a perfect shot at the officer, his aim missed and two of the bullets went wild, the other two striking Ligon in the arm.

In spite of his injuries, Ligon attempted to capture Gonzalez. The other occupant of the car had fled. Ligon was unable to identify him but furnished a good description of the man.

The shooting took place at 11:30 o'clock last night. Residents on Macdonald avenue heard the shots but no one claims to have seen the fleeing men.

In the car were found several bottles of bootleg whiskey. The registration license had been removed as had all other marks of identification.

Chief of Police Dan Cox and Sergeant Charles Mahne arrived on the scene shortly after being notified and although they scoured the district, no trace of the fleeing men could be found.

Mrs. Mary Poland, formerly Mrs. Al Mejia, is being detained as a material witness. Gonzalez is said to have been infatuated with Mrs. Poland and several weeks ago is said to have created a disturbance, involving one of her children.

When questioned last night Mrs. Poland denied any knowledge of the affair and said that she had no knowledge of Gonzalez's whereabouts.

The fact that the struggle and the shooting took place in the dark is believed to be the only reason that Ligon was not killed.

He was unarmed when Gonzalez fired the last shots at him with the apparent intention of killing the officer.

The bullet in the arm entered the palm of the hand and came out above the wrist, shattering the bone. X-rays taken showed that the bullet had not lodged in the wrist.

Search is being made in the cities throughout the Bay region for the two Mexicans and because of the definite definite description which the police are able to furnish it is believed that the two men will be captured soon.

Wilson to Open Headquarters

Campaign headquarters for Aubrey Wilson, candidate for coronet in the August primaries, will be opened at 914 Macdonald avenue Saturday, according to an announcement made yesterday. The headquarters will be open daily and will be the meeting place for all supporters of Wilson in his candidacy.

There will be no rally held this week because the time will be devoted to the opening of the headquarters. Meetings will be resumed next week and will continue until the primaries. Support for Wilson grows from day to day throughout the county and his friends are enthusiastic over the progress made to date.

Screams Scare Away Burglar Last Evening

Shortly before midnight last night an attempt was made to burglarize the home of E. L. Smith at 825 Thirty-sixth street. The burglar had almost effected an entry into the house, when the children were awakened by the noise, and they scared the intruder away by their screams.

The police department was immediately notified but as yet have no trace of the thief, as no description of the fellow could be given them.

MARINE PROGRESS

Word comes from Washington to the effect that the old disagreement between the Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation has been adjusted, and that from this time on things will work more smoothly so far as the operation of our merchant marine is concerned. This is word which will be received with satisfaction by the people of the United States in general. The people at large have known little of the intricacies of the supposed quarrel between the Shipping Board and the Fleet Corporation. They have been chiefly concerned because they have feared that, during the arguments or disagreements, the merchant marine might be lost sight of, and it is the merchant marine itself which interests every patriotic American.

It is said that the new head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation favors the maintenance of the merchant marine under private ownership and that he approves the plan whereby the shipping board and Department of Commerce will co-operate during the next few months to work out a plan for the merchant marine. The plan is to be presented to the next session of congress for action.

So after a great deal of doubt and discussion the clouds seem to be clearing away. Some definite action is promised in the next congress when this plan is presented. The American people want the Merchant Marine made a permanent institution. They want it under private ownership if this is found possible, and if not they are willing to risk government maintenance, rather than run the danger of having the merchant marine go into the discard again. To scrap the merchant marine now would be a national crime and one which few people believe will be committed. The public will look forward with interest to the plan which is to be devised by the shipping board and Commerce Department for putting the American merchant marine on a permanent basis.

PROPHETS BUSY

The Democratic political prophets who a few weeks ago inaugurated a solemn discussion with themselves as to whether the President was or was not slipping, have begun to grow a little dubious not only as to the soundness but as to the wisdom of their vision. Their first great disappointment came from the fact that the White House refused to show any interest in the prediction and ignored the thing completely, and went on its way, despite all the midsummer heat, in formulating and executing plans for the better administration of the government.

When the people contrast conditions in America where the total of unemployment is at a minimum as against the European situation where there are at least 6,000,000 people who are idle; when they contrast the American dollar with the curious jumble of falling currency abroad, and when with each quarterly tax bill they are again brought to an appreciation that a steady, consistent and successful effort is being made to reduce the total of private moneys for public expenses, it is no wonder that the democratic slogan met with poor success.

Governor Al Smith, unwittingly perhaps, but none the less effectively, settled the question himself by making a solemn pilgrimage to White Pine Camp. Men run to fires, not to ruins. The governor is too good a publicity seeker to have attempted to bask in the light of a star that was sinking.

The dictators of Europe soon may be numerous enough to hold a convention—Milwaukee Journal.

FANNIE WARD

Fannie Ward came to America a few weeks ago, and with her arrival awakened memories of other days, days when hushed audiences held their breath while Fannie held the center of the stage, supreme as "The Shop Girl," as Lady Algy in the famous play "Lord and Lady Algy." Miss Ward was born in St. Louis in the 1870's. After some desultory acting in this country, she became leading lady for a London company and first appeared in the United States in "A Marriage of Reason," a play which quickly established her as a star of the first magnitude.

One after another, she starred in the leading plays of the day, with a popular acclaim that is given to few. She retired at the height of her career, and now lives in Paris, where she occasionally acts for the "cinemas."

James Whitcomb Riley's Little Known Love

It is not generally known that America's beloved poet, James Whitcomb Riley, had an affair of the heart with a Miss Elizabeth Kahle. Recently some details of the story came to light but the full romance is still unknown and one can only guess why Riley never married Miss Kahle, or why Miss Kahle chose to become Mrs. Brunn instead of the wife of the great poet.

For five years Riley and Miss Kahle corresponded steadily, but a peculiar fact was that during the first two of these five years neither had met the other.

Elizabeth Kahle

When Elizabeth married Brunn she thought it best for the correspondence to cease, and it did. But the memory of Riley persisted all through her married years and after Riley's death she turned to spiritualism, impelled by the idea that in this way she could renew their relations. She professed to have received many spirit messages from him, and one she made public in 1921.

Below is one of the love notes Riley addressed to Miss Kahle, dated August 23, 1879—in which he opens his heart to her in a

THE MOTHER OF FRANK VANDERLIP

The mother of Frank Vanderlip, the financier, taught him to be self-reliant; and independence of character is an asset which has made many a man and woman successful in life.

He was born on a farm in Illinois and when he was only twelve his father died. Three children were left, the eldest being Frank. Mrs. Vanderlip collected some insurance but this money she would on no account touch, even though Frank hungered for an education, and practically the entire burden of supporting the family fell upon him.

He grew from under this burden into a man of purpose, of determination. Perhaps had his mother given way to his unexpressed but evident wishes to go to school, her action would have been a praise-worthy bit of self-sacrifice, but it might not have brought the same results, for when later in life Vanderlip did not manage to go to college he was disappointed; he could not get there the particular kind of education he desired.

His mother came of pioneering stock and she preferred, particularly when spurred on by adverse circumstances, that he make his way in the world through his own efforts.

As we know today, he succeeded in doing this. By working in a machine shop ten hours a day at seven and a half cents an hour; by doing other jobs; by pinching and scraping, he managed to help his family and save enough to enter the University of Illinois.

His chief ambition was to succeed in electrical work, but his destiny took him through a course of newspaper work during which he became a financial expert, and brought him to his true vocation, banking.

"Your letter is so kind—so very kind and good, that I must write at once to thank you for it and grab your two warm hands close in my own and wring them fervently. Only you must not be concerned about my welfare—anything because I don't deserve such interest from anyone so good as you. I do smile, though, when you say 'I wanted to ask, like I do of children when they cry, what is the matter?' Tell me.

"Surely if you feel like that, and indeed you comprehend me just as I am—a little helpless child who would thank God with all his boyish heart if you just would—now, this minute—put your hands over my eyes and say, 'Now, you must sleep.' Only—only—I want to be strong enough to bear my burden and your dear words make me weak. You don't know—you can't know—what a weight it is and how heavier it grows each weary step I take.

"Forgive me, but you mustn't be so good to me, because I want you to be happy—not like me, who cannot even lift my empty hands at times and ask God's help. You make me want to call you 'little girl.' You make me want to come to you, creeping on my feet and hands, to get away from all the world and rest—rest."

Program at Social Given by the First Christian Church is Well Received by a Large Attendance

One of the most successful affairs given for some time by the First Christian church was staged last night in the social hall of the church.

The affair was in the nature of a home coming social and also a social in honor of Miss Florence Clark and George Clarke who will be united in marriage on next Wednesday evening.

The hit of the evening was the mock wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Frank A. Woten, a burlesque on the coming wedding of Miss Clark to Clarke. Frances Woten acted the part of the bride while Stillman Clark assumed the role of the groom.

The program presented before the audience which was estimated to number over 200 was as follows:

1. Solos by Marguerite Knoble.
2. Duet by Miss Florence Clark and Miss Bell Woodford.
3. Chinese reading by A. L. Paulsen.

4. Readings by Mrs. F. S. French.
5. Solos by Mrs. Ross Calfee.
6. Duet by Warren and Ruby Black.
7. Solos by Price Roberts.
8. Mock wedding scene.

The piano accompanists were Miss Helen Carpenter, Emil Esola and Miss Florence Clark.

At the close of the program Miss Clark and Clarke were presented with a beautiful floor lamp by the congregation of the church.

The social was concluded by the serving of refreshments.

Mrs. C. C. Kratzer was in charge of the party and she was assisted by the following committee:

The association will meet twice a month at the home of one of the members.

The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. W. H. Keltz on August 25.

An informal meeting was held on Tuesday evening by a number of Richmond Scots, who are endeavoring to form a Scottish Association in this district.

Much enthusiasm was shown, and it would seem as if there is a great possibility of a successful association being formed. Another meeting will be held in the near future.

The Bayview Lodge, Auxiliary to the R. R. T. made plans last night to attend the picnic to be given by the San Francisco lodge on Sunday at the Cascade park near San Rafael. The local lodge also made plans to attend the birthday party to be given by the Oakland lodge on Monday night. Mrs. Emma French, the president had charge of last night's meeting.

Woman of India Says She Saw Dead Restored

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 11.—Declaring that she was an eye witness to the restoration of life to a person certified by physicians to be dead, Miss Mary Forbes, first American woman to hold a government position in India, arrived at her home in Berkeley today.

Miss Forbes was official companion, under appointment of the British Indian government, to her Highness the Dowager Rani of Mandi, in the Punjab. She was appointed in 1914.

Her story of the "Miracle" of life restored to the dead person follows:

"One of the serving women of the Rani became ill.

"When she became very ill, in accordance with Indian custom, she was removed to a death chamber. A few hours later she died. Her death was announced and certified by the English physicians at the palace.

"The Rani was inconsolable. Finally she sent for a Yogi and requested him to restore life to the dead woman.

"For a long time the Yogi sat at the corpse's feet and bowed his head while he prayed. It was for a long time because those of us at the door watching became very tired.

"Then, still praying, he grasped the body by the ankles and with a great cry, violently jerked her feet.

"Nothing happened. I said to myself that here was another bit of faking by the Yogi. The Yogi went through the whole performance again. The second time he jerked her feet, the dead woman showed signs of returning life. Her eyes opened and she breathed. This was nearly half a day after the physicians had pronounced her dead.

"She was very weak, but alive. The Yogi, telling the servants to feed the woman, took his leave. The woman who had been restored to life, steadily became better and when I felt she was very much alive and serving the Rani.

"She told me that death was like sleep."

U. S. BUDGET IS CUT 99 MILLION BY PRESIDENT

(By Universal Service)

PAUL SMITHS (N. Y.) Aug. 11.—Slashing with his ruthless economy axe, President Coolidge today cut $99,000,000 off the sums asked by his department chiefs to run the government next year.

He saved taxpayers money at the rate of $1,000,000 a minute.

General Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget, came to White Pine camp with a tremendous mass of figures showing that the department heads had asked $3,389,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1927.

President Coolidge scanned them intently for an hour and a half. His pruning over, it was announced he had slashed their allowance to $3,270,000,000.

Despite this saving, Uncle Sam will spend $55,000,000 more than in the current year.

Legislation passed by Congress contributed an increase of $75,000,000 for 1926-27 over 1927-28. These were the items:

Increased pensions for Civil and Spanish War Veterans, $35,000,000; Veterans Bureau, $18,000,000; retirement annuities for public employees, $16,000,000; new buildings and teachers' pay increased in the District of Columbia, $5,000,000.

But President Coolidge, having pruned $20,000,000 off this year's expenses, reduced the net increase for next year to the $55,000,000.

Further economy will be practiced all along the line, because the allotments for next year are already $71,000,000 in excess of the $3,200,000,000 limitation which the President declared for in his budget speech. They are also $100,000,000 in excess of the government's estimated receipts for next year.

The army of government employees will be reduced, General Lord said. Government chiefs are already instructed to reduce personnel 2 per cent this year. The same ratio will doubtless be continued in 1927-28. General Lord said it can be done without hardship, because the average turnover of employees is about 9 per cent. The department chiefs merely will permit 2 per cent of the retirements to remain unfilled by new employees.

There is scant chance of further tax reductions next year, Lord said. He estimated that the current fiscal year will close with a surplus of $185,000,000, which he regards as relatively insignificant. And there is no surplus in sight for the following year, he said.

Following Lord's visit, General Manager Arthur R. Rule, of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, which has thirty-five co-operative societies in thirty states, appealed to President Coolidge to spur the incoming Congress to favorable action on the co-operative marketing legislation.

Fruit growers are confronted with the greatest crop in history, he said. The peach, apple and grape crops are bumper, he said. "The public interest demands improved marketing conditions," said Rule. "Bad marketing products glut in some sections of the country and famines in others."

Rule said the growers are interested in legislation which will enable the government to loan money and to give them technical assistance and encouragement. It is believed they want the Coolidge-Pess $100,000,000 co-operative marketing bill which was rejected by the last session of Congress on the eve of adjournment.

FAMOUS BANDIT OF CHICAGO IS SLAIN BY THUGS

(By Universal Service)

By FRED VANDEVENDER

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Today was the morning after the night before" insofar as Chicago gangland is concerned.

There was trembling among the leaders of the gangs and the gangs members themselves, for they knew not who would be next.

The trembling was because someone had enough nerve to kill Louis "Big" Smith, the most notorious gunman here. Nine gangsters have been arrested in connection with the killing.

Two years ago Smith came to Chicago from New York's lower East Side. During the two years he has built up a reputation for himself as a killer, rivaled by none.

The authorities today tried to reconstruct the killing. They believe it was a retaliation for the murder of Jules Portuguese two weeks ago.

Portuguese and Smith together robbed a New York jewelry salesman of $300,000 in gems. Portuguese was caught and stood trial, but did not implicate Smith. He was convicted, but released on bond pending a decision by the Supreme Court.

After his release, it is known he went to Smith. Whether he demanded blackmail money for keeping his name out of it, or whether he merely asked for some of the expenses toward the defense is not known, but Portuguese was killed.

Police admit they expect the killing of "Max the Greaser," Lieutenant of Smith.

There was no weeping among the authorities because of Smith's demise. He has a long police record.

The authorities believe a youngster, a boy, killed Smith, for they point out he evidently is new to gangland or he would not have

Museum May Inherit Hoodoo Serb Machine

By O. D. TOLISCHUS

(By Universal Service)

BERLIN, August 11.—The car in which Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife were assassinated at Sarajevo just twelve years ago was a hoodoo car which brought none of its owners any good, either before or since the assassination that started the world war, according to the Serbian press.

The car, which to this day shows the marks of the bomb, was turned over after the revolution to the new chief of Bosnia, Dr. Erskie, now a minister of the Jugo-Slavian Government.

Dr. Erskie, however had such bad experiences with the car that he scarcely ever used it and sold it as soon as he could.

The new owner, Ragib Cavara, of Caplina, in Dalmatia, started a regular postal service with it between Caplina and Imotski and laughed at all warnings. Last February, the car turned over and killed Ragib Cavara.

Now nobody wants to drive the hoodoo car, which otherwise is wholly intact.

Its next owner will probably be a museum.

CONSTITUTION DAY IS FETED IN GERMANY

By O. D. TOLISCHUS

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(Special cable to Universal Service.)—In the presence of President Hindenburg and government and military officials, the German Republic today celebrated the seventh anniversary of its birth with solemn rites in the festively decorated Reichstag.

Minister of Interior, Brüning, proclaimed the Weimar Constitution as the Magna Charta of the German Republic, which placed the sovereignty in the hands of the people themselves and which was designated to secure peace at home and abroad.

"The old State has collapsed and a new State has arisen," declared Brüning, concluding his speech at the end of the celebration.

Chancellor Brüning, who spoke to the people to pledge themselves on this day to surpass one another in the service of the fatherland and to not lose faith in Germany's future.

Following the ceremony amid thundering "Hochs" of the thousands who packed the square of the Republic before the Reichstag, President Hindenburg paced off in front of the guard of honor, still every inch a soldier, though in civilian dress.

"Deutschland über Alles" concluded the celebration. Nevertheless like red thread through the celebration, even in official speeches, ran the realization that the German people are still badly split over the republic. While the banners of all nations, including the scarlet flag of Russia, waver over their embassies in honor of the day, German flags were visible, and these mainly on official buildings. On many buildings there are no flags at all and others display all manner of odd banners to avoid showing the colors of the republic.

FASHION SHOW IN 'IRENE' AT THE RICHMOND

What is so rare as a beautiful fashion show on the screen? Only the day in June, of course. When the show comes, however, as it did last night in the premiere at the Richmond Theatre of Colleen Moore's "Irene," it is worthy of all praise. This reviewer is delighted to give it. Gowns on beautiful women are like petals on a rose. Colleen Moore and a troupe of rapturously beautiful Hollywood corymbes parade in dress creations that give them the semblance of gorgeous flowers. Miss Moore herself is a thing of beauty and joy forever. "Irene," like Miss Moore's former triumph, "Sally," is based on a musical comedy hit. Lloyd Hughes, George K. Arthur and Charles Murray are featured. The picture was produced by John McCormick, directed by Alfred E. Green and released through First National. Other features on the same program include "Below Zero," a Like Conley comedy; "Prisma," the screen magazine; and a Grantland Rice "Sportlight."

New Mecca in Germany Stirs Many Persons

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, Aug. 11.—A new Mecca, to which all southern Germany is bringing her blind and lame and sick in expectation of miraculous healing, has arisen in the little village of Himmelstadt, translated City of Heaven, on the Main River. The fame of Himmelstadt rests on a vision which two girls said they had. According to their custom, the two girls stopped their work in the field when the church bells began to toll the noon-hour and started to pray. Suddenly, they say, a white cloud arose at the edge of a nearby forest and in that cloud they say they clearly saw a picture of the Madonna. This vision, they say, repeated itself several days and a third woman also claims she saw the vision. Now the rush to Himmelstadt is so large that it affects the work of the region. The Bishop of Wuerzburg has issued the following proclamation: "The pilgrimages to Himmelstadt now spoken of so much, are assuming dangerous form. We urge the faithful to practice restraint, and to await the official investigation."

FAMOUS STORY IS SCREENED AT CALIFORNIA

She makes all the other screen flappers look like nice, old-fashioned girls! She's the dast edition of up-to-the-minute pep and folly. Her conduct shocks women and fascinates men. Her story is the basis of the most absorbing motion picture that has come to captivate critics and audiences in many a day. We refer, of course, to the screen version of Elenore Meherin's story, "Sandy," that is now a Fox Film. It opened last night to a large and enthusiastic attendance and for the benefit of those who wish to see it before it closes its present engagement, we add that there has been a constantly growing line at the California box-office, where it is wise to arrive early. "Sandy" has been transferred to celluloid under the direction of Harry Beaumont and features an unusually brilliant cast. In the title role is Madge Bellamy. Her performance stands out as an amazing piece of screen acting as she brings to life this 1926 girl whose one desire is to live fully without the hampering conventions that her conservative family believes are the very basis of respectability. Added attraction, the new sensation, "Brunswick Panatope," with Maurice Grunsky, KPO favorite singing, "Lay My Head Beneath A Rose" with organ accompaniment by Larry Canelo. Other features include "A Flaming Affair," an Imperial comedy; "Songs of Italy;" "International News."

Coliseum Cross Restored By Italy

(By Universal Service)
By JOHN T. BURKE
ROME, Aug. 11.—The cross removed from the Coliseum fifty years ago by the Italian government of that day is being restored by another Italian government to the spot, (overlooking the pit of the Christian Martyrs), where it stood for hundreds of years. This is another significant step forward toward reconciliation between Church and State, which now seems close at hand and which was initiated when Mussolini, declaring Italy is an unchangeably Catholic country, restored the emblem of Christianity to the public schools, this decree being followed subsequently by orders ordering the cross to be placed in every court of justice, hospital, college, university and academy in the land. The replanting of the cross in the Coliseum is an imposing ceremony with Cardinal Popilli, Vicar of Rome, conducting the religious exercises, and all the heads of the government with princely representatives of the House of Savoy, among the vast army of spectators. Religious, lay and military processions marked a memorable day, and the choral music rendered by thousands of trained voices, was directed by Monsignor Casimor, the famous maestro of the Sistine Chapel.

Funeral Rites Today For Robert Nichols

Funeral services for Robert Nichols of Oakland, brother of Mrs. Oliver McDowell and uncle of Mrs. James Nabrett of Richmond, will be held from the Bessie Wood undertaking parlors in Oakland at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Nichols passed away at the Fabiola hospital in Oakland Monday night, at the age of sixty-four years. There are many jobs in this world we would like. One of them is inventing new cheers for the University of Nizhni Novgorod. —Wisconsin Octopus.

Clemenceau if Elected Could Pay Debt, Claim

(By FRANK E. MASON)
(By Universal Service)
PARIS, Aug. 11.—France's war debt to America would have been cancelled five years ago, if the nation had elected former premier Georges Clemenceau president; instead of slighting the "Tiger" and making Paul Deschanel head of the government, declares General Mordacq. Clemenceau never intended to serve the full seven years presidential term, and would have resigned after the American debt was cancelled. General Mordacq, former commander of a French army corps, is one of the Tiger's most intimate friends. "Clemenceau as president of France would have made a tour through the United States, where he then was very popular," explains the general.

Polish Police Force Enlarged As Riots Start

(By Universal Service)
POSEN, Poland, August 11.—Because of the continual rioting which has been staged here since the Revolution of Marshal Pilsudski, the police department of Posen has been increased from 160 to 260 uniformed guardians. A special detachment of troops also has been sent from Warsaw to keep order, but which has failed to stop fighting between the Socialists and Fascists. About 200 disturbers have been arrested here within the last two weeks for inciting riots in which four people have been killed. Fighting has also been reported from Cracow, where several women and children have been injured.

was approximately two-tenths of a mile nearer the business center than Tenth street extended. They agreed however that Twenty-third street would only be the beginning of opening up direct arteries of traffic into the retail district and that the city eventually would possess three or six more such arteries.

T. H. Deap, A. L. Paulsen, W. T. Helms, Fred La Moine, all were of one mind that something should be done immediately along this line. Charles S. Rowick, Larkin J. Younce, J. F. Brooks, also spoke on the necessity of getting behind a movement to bring traffic down town.

As a result President Sanford was empowered to appoint a committee to go into the subject thoroughly, prepare tentative maps and a tentative digest of costs, to be presented at the earliest possible moment.

The Chamber of Commerce directors realize that there is no more important matter before the city than this problem of better and more direct transportation facilities into the business district.

W. W. Scott, chairman of the transportation committee of the chamber, reported that his committee had met today and arranged to meet with the street committee of the city council Monday evening, August 30th, at 6:30 o'clock to take up the matter of a bus service in the Mira Vista district, the abandonment of the Key System Transit company's tracks on San Pablo and the proposal of the traction company to substitute a bus service in that district connecting with the Oakland carline at Stege Junction.

The matter will be gone into very thoroughly and when the Chamber of Commerce committee and the city council decide upon the needs of the district affected, the matter will be taken jointly before the traction company's engineers for final decision.

"Transportation is the lifeblood of the community," said M. A. Hays of the Chamber of Commerce committee. "Population goes where it finds convenience of transportation. We must make it easy for Richmond residents to come into Richmond's business district, to get to Oakland and to get to San Francisco. The day when the workers who commute out of Richmond equals the number that work here is the day Richmond becomes a really big city. Transportation makes a city."

Flaming—"Did you ever see me with more than I could carry?" Youth—"No. But I've often thought you should have made two trips for it."

Three Districts Vote to Merge For Irrigation

BRENTWOOD, Aug. 11.—With two or three district affected returning a unanimous vote in an election held yesterday, consolidation of the Brentwood, Lone Tree and Knightsen irrigation districts was approved by one of the most overwhelming majorities ever returned in an east Contra Costa election. Approval of the merger means that 20,000 acres of irrigated land will be placed under one operating board and that the three districts will lose their individual identities and become known as the first Contra Costa Irrigation District.

In the Brentwood Irrigation District 122 votes were cast in favor of the project and in the Lone Tree district 3 favored consolidation. Not a dissenting vote was registered in either district. Knightsen gave 67 votes in favor of the project and 31 against consolidation.

Alex Murdock was elected assessor and tax collector for the consolidated district obtaining 105 votes to 97 for William Hammond and 60 for Mott Preston.

The vote for directors from the five divisions into which the district has been divided was as follows: Division 1—O. C. Frewett, (unopposed) 36; Division 2—A. H. Honenberger, 48; H. A. Batio, 46; Division 3—Byron Grigsby, 11; George A. Davis, 18; Division 4—Robert Wallace, Jr., (unopposed) 65; Division 5—Byron Swift, 30; Walter Moffett, 14.

By the vote of the three districts dissolution of the East Contra Costa Irrigation company, which has been supplying water to the three districts, was approved and sanction was given for organization of the East Contra Costa Irrigation District. Consolidation of the districts, it is claimed, will effect a saving of $5,000 annually in operating expenses besides placing the district under one operating board.

The Knightsen Irrigation District comprised 10,000 acres and the Brentwood and Lone Tree districts acreages totaled 9,999 acres. Some of the finest agricultural land in the county is embraced in the districts.

The husband was showing his wife over the new home in which they were to live. "Do you like it dear?" he asked. "Oh, it's perfectly wonderful," she replied. "Those beautiful windows! The wonderful floor! The fine furniture—why it's almost as nice as a filling station!" —Wisconsin Octopus.

ARRESTED PAIR OF S. F. BANDITS ARE RETURNED

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 11.—Puffing debonairly on swank English pipes, and wearing smart, well-pressed clothing of the latest mode, "Julius and Ludwig Busch," who left San Francisco last October with $10,000 in their pockets, were brought back here yesterday after one of the most exciting international hare-and-hound chases in many years.

It was not to a fashionable hotel that they came, however, to spend money lavishly on luxuries. Just to a cell in the Hall of Justice to await trial on charges of embezzlement and to explain what had become of some $50,000, the amount found missing when their bank accounts were located in London.

Stripped of all pretense as scions of a wealthy Viennese family, the two brothers were revealed upon their enforced "homecoming" as Dr. Leonard Blumen, clever young Polish attorney, and Julius M. Blumen, equally clever bank clerk.

But clever as they were in the role of financiers, as spenders, and as quick witted dodgers of the law, they were ready to admit themselves bested by the ingenious pursuit of a man who had taken up their trail five and a half months after their alleged surrenders from the Bank of Italy.

The Blumen brothers, known only in San Francisco as the Busch brothers, were returned here yesterday by S. T. MacCubbin, auditor of the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland, who arrested them in London in May, and Detective Sergeant William Proll, who went to London with extradition papers from Governor Richardson and Secretary of State Kellogg.

At Sacramento the Overland Limited was met by Detective Sergeant Arthur McQuade and at the Ferry building they were joined by Detective Sergeants James Gregson and James Mitchell to assure against any last-minute break.

But the Blumen evidently were of no mind to break. "We made our mistake," declared Julius, is 29, "and we're ready to stand the consequences. Beyond that, the only thing we want to say is that we hope no other young fellows will try what we did. It doesn't pay."

The pursuit itself was begun nearly six months after Julius Blumen had completed the theft, according to police, of $100,000 worth of foreign securities during his employment in the foreign exchange department of the San Francisco bank, and $7,000 from a friend, Ferdinand Ehrenfeld, with whom they lived. It is a story in itself worthy of an Arsene Lupin.

Julius was wanted for the embezzlement, Leopold, who had held an equally trusted position with the Anglo-California Trust company, and is alleged to have disposed of the bonds was wanted as an accessory.

The only clues were a shoe tree left in their apartment at 1927 Jackson street, and bearing the name "Dr. Bremen," and the serial baggage numbers on their three trunks.

After first tracing their movements to Chicago, where for a time the scent was lost, MacCubbin left here in April, determined to follow the baggage numbers until he should catch up with his quarry.

Then began the involved tracing and retracing of the elusive trail from one city to another—from Chicago to Detroit, thence to Toronto, back to Chicago and on through an intricate maze of

POMERENE MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Former Senator Alice Pomerene stepped into the presidential picture tonight by winning the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio without making a speech or issuing a statement to advance his candidacy.

Should he defeat Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, nominator for the Senate this fall, Pomerene will make himself the most formidable compromise candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928.

With another bitter-end battle brewing between Governor Al Smith and William G. McAdoo, which would again doom Democratic chances, Pomerene is regarded as the most acceptable compromise candidate to the warring factions in the party.

Although McAdoo endorsed the candidacy of Julius Pomerene, S. Allen Pomerene's opponent, who is dry, it is believed that the former Senator, a moderate wet, would be more acceptable to the former secretary of the treasury than Governor Ritchie of Maryland or Senator James A. Reed of Missouri.

By the same token, political observers here believe that the extremely dry tendencies of Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Senator Joe T. Robinson, McAdoo supporters, which would not militate against Pomerene in gaining the favor of Governor Smith.

Geographically Pomerene's position is perfect. Ohio is a pivotal state and the mother of Presidents. Moreover, if President Coolidge steps aside, speaker Nicolas Longworth, also of Ohio, may be the Republican nominee.

Despite his defeat by Senator Fess in 1922, Pomerene did not slip into obscurity. On the contrary, he added to his reputation by ability and aggressiveness as government prosecutor of the Teapot Dome and California Naval Reserve oil cases against Fall, Doherty and Sinclair.

Although Ohio has another Democratic presidential possibility in Governor A. C. Donkey, who was nominated for a third term, it is believed that he would not stand in the way of Pomerene if he is selected to the Senate. Donkey is said to have no serious aspirations for the presidency.

Because of the direct leaning of the presidency, the Ohio election will be watched more closely than any other senatorial fight in the country. It will be red-hot with the wet and dry issue and various playing an important part.

Pomerene is personally dry, but he aroused the wrath of the anti-saloon league by voting against the eighteenth amendment. At that time Ohio had voted wet by referendum. He also voted to sustain President Wilson's veto of wartime prohibition.

Willis is the darling of the drys. He is the self admitted spokesman of the anti-saloon league in the Senate and has accepted money from the league for making dry speeches outside of Ohio. One of Wayne B. Wheeler's "Honarium Huzzars."

Well-posted observers on sentiment in Ohio, however, declare that the State is almost evenly divided on the prohibition question. But the issue is certain to be stressed and the outcome of the race will have a profound political effect outside of the State.

While Pomerene stands high with the business element in the Buckeye State, there is a considerable dissatisfaction with Willis among the Republican organization over the State. He is anathema to the powerful Republican machine in Hamilton County, in which Cincinnati is the city. He is, however, a hold. It is significant that Pomerene carried Hamilton County against Fess, a dry, in 1922.

Pomerene permitted himself to be drafted into the race for the nomination but did not raise his voice in the campaign. But he intends to make an aggressive campaign now. He will hammer on the Newberry issue—one on which Willis is in the campaign. He has drafted the extraordinary resolution condemning the expenditure of $195,000 by former Senator Newberry of Michigan and then voted to seat him.

clues that sometimes faded out and then reappeared again at some unexpected point.

Finally, through the brothers' flight into Canada, MacCubbin added to his slim stock of clues a bit of information from their wives. Tracing these back and forth in their shuttlecock dodging, he at last picked up their trail again at New York, from where they had sailed for Liverpool.

PRISONER AT ALCATRAZ HELD IN MILLS CASE

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Henry Lester Dickman, serving a term for desertion at the Army Disciplinary Barracks at Alcatraz Island, today refused to admit or deny that he is the former New Jersey state trooper sought for questioning in connection with the Hall-Mills murder investigation.

"I won't answer any questions," said Dickman.

Dickman was brought from his cell to the office of Col. William Morrow, Commandant, who explained to Dickman that he did not have to answer questions.

"New Jersey authorities say that Dickman, a state trooper, was assigned to the Hall-Mills case and that it is supposed he received money to withhold valuable evidence which he is believed to have obtained and then deserted, leaving behind two months salary."

"I won't answer that question," snapped Dickman.

"If you are not the man whose name has been linked with the investigation is their any reason then why you won't say so?" the prisoner was asked.

"No, I don't want to say anything at all."

It was learned however, that the prisoner had asked to see the newspapers. It was stated Dickman's request would be granted.

Dickman enlisted in the army last year from the state of Georgia. He was sent to the Philippines where he deserted. Sentenced to a year in prison, Dickman was brought to San Francisco from Manila and placed in the disciplinary barracks at Alcatraz. He will be released next March.

Army officials said they had received no word from the New Jersey authorities.

David Belasco Seriously Ill

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—David Belasco, the producer, is seriously ill at his hotel here, following a physical breakdown ten days ago.

Due to his advanced age—he is 72—the physicians are fearful that he might not have sufficient strength to throw off his illness. At the same time, his remarkable physical endurance which has carried him through so many years of strenuous activity is all in his favor, they say.

Two months ago, while in Atlantic City attending preliminary performance of "Fanny," starring Fanny Brice, the dean of American producers was stricken with neuralgia and lumbago.

After several days in bed, he was forced to leave the company and come to New York, where he was confined again. He has been out only once since that time, to attend a rehearsal of "All the Way From Texas," in that way celebrating his seventy-second birthday.

The producer, his friends say, has perceptibly gone down since the death of his wife a few months ago. Mrs. Belasco had been his helpmate for fifty years and Mr. Belasco has not smiled since her death.

Louise Fazenda Granted Divorce

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—Louise Fazenda, screen star, was granted a divorce today by Superior Judge Walter Gates from Noel M. Smith, film director, on the grounds of desertion. The actress testified that her husband was in the habit of leaving her nights. One night he left and did not return.

"Did you know where he went evenings?" questioned the court.

"No, I tried to follow him, but he had a faster car than I did," the actress replied. The couple were married at Santa Ana, March 7, 1917 and her husband left her on August 11, 1923, the star said. The plaintiff did not ask for alimony, declaring she was supporting herself in the films.
